

Featured Speaker

Diane Nix

Diane Nix is a mother, seminary professor's wife, popular speaker, Bible Study teacher, and author. She was a pastor's wife and women's ministry director for almost 20 years. Her first passion is the precious family that the Lord has given her. After the stillborn death of their first daughter and being told that they would probably never have children, the Lord chose to bless them with Rebekah, 12, and Rachel, 10. Her second passion is teaching the Word of God to women and helping them to discover their true identity as women of divine purpose. Her book, "When God's Woman Wants to Give Up!" is based on Job and his wife. It pulls back the curtain on what brings women of today to a place of giving up and throwing in the towel! Diane draws from her own personal journey of barrenness to her latest "adventure" of losing all of her personal material goods in Hurricane Katrina and then surviving a rare bout with bacterial meningitis.
